

Serra February 3rd, 2026 Meeting

Fr. Joseph Rampino

Fr. Joseph Rampino is a priest of the Diocese of Arlington, ordained in 2016 after studying at St. Charles Borromeo Seminary (BA in Philosophy '12), The Pontifical University of St. Thomas Aquinas in the City (Bachelor of Sacred Theology '15), and the Pontifical Lateran University. After seven years of pastoral work in a number of different parishes, he studied historical theology at The Catholic University of America (Licentiate in Sacred Theology '25) with a particular concern for the history and nature of diocesan clerical life, as well as the theology of participation in Christ. He is currently pursuing a doctorate in Sacred Theology at the same Catholic University of America.